

SUMMER SIZZLES ON SEVEN

Premiere Series and Returning Favourites make
Seven's Summer 08/09 line-up red hot!

Channel Seven is delighted to announce its red hot summer line-up featuring premiere overseas drama, audience favourite comedy and action-packed event TV.

Premiere series include quirky American legal drama, Eli Stone, which stars Jonny Lee Miller and features cameos from pop star George Michael; British police drama, Holby Blue, a spin-off of the successful Casualty and Holby City series; and Britannia High, a British musical drama which evokes comparisons to the hugely popular High School Musical trilogy and Fame.

For a bit of fun, Dance Machine is must-see TV, with ordinary people facing off in extraordinary dance-offs to rival anything you'll witness at the office Christmas party.

New seasons of Las Vegas and a dirtier, sexier, Dirty Sexy Money, featuring new cast member Lucy Liu, will bring the sizzle to your Summer viewing.

In terms of event TV, it doesn't get much bigger than 24: Redemption. Jack is back in the hotly-anticipated telemovie which provides a high-octane bridge between season six and 2009's season seven.

The Amazing Race, Prison Break, Heroes, Scrubs and The Unit will all continue, joined by fresh episodes of returning favourites Ugly Betty, Hot Property, Outback Wildlife Rescue, Kath & Kim, The American Series, The Rich List, Air Crash Investigations and Seven Wonders of the Industrial World.

Viewers can also catch up on their favourite episodes of hit comedy How I Met Your Mother when we take you back to the start of this much-loved series.

And it wouldn't be Summer on Seven without Carols In The Domain. Kate Ritchie returns to co-host this year's event which will celebrate it's 26th year with the biggest line-up yet of Australia's top voices.

SEVEN'S SUMMER PREMIERES:

HOLBY BLUE

Premieres Sunday 30 November at 8.30pm

The lives and loves of the officers who man Holby South Police Station are centre stage in this British drama. Gangs, drug dealers and terrorist threats are the least of worries for these crime fighters as they struggle with their own shady inner circle. Holby Blue is part of a BBC drama stable which also features popular medical dramas Casualty and Holby City.

ELI STONE

8.30pm Tuesdays and Thursdays from 2 December

San Francisco lawyer Eli Stone (Jonny Lee Miller) has built a successful career at a top law firm representing only the biggest and richest corporations that make a habit of screwing over the little guy. But after experiencing a series of odd hallucinations, including a crooning George Michael, Eli seeks to find a deeper meaning to life while trying not to lose his job and destroy his relationship with the boss' daughter. When Eli discovers an aneurysm in his brain, he wonders if his condition is truly medical or if perhaps he now has a higher calling.

24: REDEMPTION

Premieres Friday 5 December at 9.30pm

He gave everything to save his country but Jack Bauer is now a wanted man. Avoiding the US authorities he once served, Jack is working as a missionary in Africa. His unique skills and fearlessness are called to action to save innocent children from a ruthless warlord's murderous militia. 24: Redemption was filmed on location in South Africa and Los Angeles, and is a bridge between 24 seasons six and seven. Alongside star Kiefer Sutherland is a dynamic support cast including Robert Carlyle and Jon Voight.

BRITANNIA HIGH

Premieres Saturday 6 December at 6.30pm

If you liked High School Musical, you'll love Britannia High when it explodes onto Seven this summer in a whirlwind of dance, sensational music and unforgettable drama. With original music composed by some of the biggest names in pop including Gary Barlow, Guy Chambers and Mark Owen, Britannia High is set in a contemporary performing arts school where the super-talented students study hard to achieve their dreams of stardom while learning important lessons about friendship, love and life. Australia's Adam Garcia stars as the students' dance mentor.

DANCE MACHINE

Premieres Saturday 6 December at 7.30pm

Did someone say dance off? Whether it's a swinging grandfather or a street smart teen, everyone has their favourite moves. But never before have they been given such an opportunity to unleash those moves for the world to see and win a stack of cash in the process. Dance Machine is a dance contest not bound by convention – whatever the age, background, experience or preferred style, everyone has a shot. Each episode features six dancers doing battle on stage. The only requirement is that they leave nothing on the floor.
